

Clubs & Societies

Directory—2018

At MONSU Caulfield, we believe that the university experience goes beyond the routine of lectures, tutorials and assignments. We want to ensure that every student has an enjoyable and memorable time at university.

MONSU Caulfield boasts over 40 clubs and societies who operate on campus. Our variety of clubs and societies include academic, cultural, special interest and spiritual clubs.

Joining one of our many clubs and societies allows you to meet and interact with other students through the many social and professional events hosted.

You may even wish to get involved in a club committee and help contribute to what makes our campus so great.

Engagement with the clubs and societies is the perfect way to transition into university life outside of the classroom.

We strongly encourage you to get involved with our clubs and societies and make your experience at Monash University Caulfield an enjoyable and fulfilling one.

Academic Clubs

Business and Commerce Students’ Society (BCSS)

BCSS is one of the largest student societies at Monash University.

We are committed to ensuring that our members enjoy a smooth transition from high school to university, and ultimately into rewarding employment. With thriving operations in both Caulfield and Clayton, BCSS has a proud history of providing outstanding social and professional services to both members and stakeholders.
