WHAT CAN YOU DO IF YOU EXPECTED A HIGHER MARK?

Contact your teaching faculty as soon as results are released for instructions on how to get feedback. Check your assignment according to the generic feedback and request individual feedback if you need further clarification.

To view your exam paper, refer to your faculty exam viewing procedures.

Please note: If you are overseas and are unable to view your exam paper, contact your teaching faculty.

HOW CAN YOU HAVE YOUR ASSESSMENT REMARKED?

Students may only apply for a remark due to a marking error. Firstly, you must look at the feedback. If you believe there is a marking error contact your Chief Examiner to request a remark of your assessment. There are strict timeframes to apply for a remark. Click here for more information.

If you believe there was an error in your marks due to how a university policy or procedure was applied to your marking process, you may lodge a Level 3 complaint here.

WHAT CAN YOU DO IF YOU FAIL YOUR FINAL UNIT?

In some cases, if you fail a unit with a grade of 45 – 49, you may be eligible to complete a supplementary assessment. Your faculty will contact you if you are eligible. You can read more here.

WHAT IF YOU FAIL ONE OR MORE UNITS?

You will be allocated an Academic Risk Level after the release of results each semester. If you have failed a compulsory course requirement, you will be allocated an Academic Risk Level 3 and could be advised to attend an Academic progress hearing.

Refer to our Academic Progress: Notice of Unsatisfactory Progress flyer for more information.
